

A tale of two cities

A persistent “molecular echo” of the cold, ocean water
